MAYOR STARTS
FUND FOR CITY
CELEBRATION

Suggests Fourth of July or
Some Other Appropriate
Holiday for It.

$100 FORMS NUCLEUS

So Independence Day Observance
Here for Next Year, He Points
Out; Time to Start is Before Others
Get in Ahead; Wants Field Day.

Mayor Charles C. Mitchell wants to get something going in Connellville for July Fourth, or some other holiday, that will make this place the center of interest, for a change.
Pointing out that nothing has been done in Connellville along such lines for so many years that the name of the city as a sporting town has been almost forgotten, he says it is ready to head a list of subscribers for financing a field day of some nature. He will contribute $100.

The mayor believes field sports could prove a big attraction. He is eager to see interesting young athletes, especially between the ages of 6 and 20 years. One thought is for a marathon contest if indications point to any real interest in such a race.

Although it is early for such plans
he mayor wants to get started before very other city or nearby town gets any under way for a home celebration.

In the past half dozen years or more the Fourth of July has been a very quiet day in this city. No general celebration has been held and at the most part the people have one elsewhere or "adjourned" to the city woods.

A decade ago a marathon race was held at Fayette field and it created considerable interest. It was participated in by a number of professionals however. The plan for the coming Fourth is to make all events of amateurs.

ly 83 years old, and a resident of Connellsville virtually all his life, died yesterday night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Carrie Daugherty, of Connellsville, with whom he made his home from the infirmities of age. He was born in Pittsburg and came to Connellsville at an early age, continuing to reside here until eight years ago when he went to Hazelwood to live with his daughter, Mrs. Daugherty.

Mr. Neeb was a carpenter by trade and for many years lived retired.
His daughter is the only surviving child. He is survived by two grandchildren, Donald Neeb, in the United States Navy, and Miss Helen Neeb.
Pittsburg. He was a brother-in-law of Mrs. Elizabeth Campbell, of Connellsville, and was a former member of the Grand Army of the Republic. He was well known here, especially among the older residents of the city.

nellsville Friday morning on the Baltimore & Ohio train due at 8:15 o'clock.

Girl Killed, Her

By United Press.

jured at 7 A. M. today when an auto-a taxi cab after the accident. The

Business Has Bright
Outlook For 1924; Peak
Still Well in Distance

Wages Continue Up and Laboring Man Will Have Much to Spend.

MANY COKE OVENS FIRED

The trend of business conditions in the country as winter advances and spring appears at hand gives less and less opportunity for the calamity hypothesis. While the year 1923 was a surprise in its steady march in business progress, there is growing confidence that the peak is yet to be reached and that 1924 will witness vastly greater volume than the history of 1923 records.

Addressing a convention of retail merchants in Pittsburg, Monday under the auspices of the mercantile bureau of the Pennsylvania State Chamber of Commerce, Ernest C.
Hartings of Washington, Pa., one of the principal speakers, asserted the peak has not been reached and indicated the trend is toward that in 1924.
Supporting his assertion Mr. Hartings said in part:

"From past experience, when we reach the peak of good times we have a number of things that show it.
There is over-speculation. At the present time there is no evidence of such a thing. We have no extravagance, for we have the knowledge that the people are saving more now than ever before. There is no evidence of relaxation on the part of the workers, and in every line they are going forward to better service. Extravagance and relaxation in the working classes are evidences that the prosperity peak has been reached. So we are safe in saying that the peak is yet to come.
There is no fever or no sign of coming in the body of prosperity. It doesn't believe we are facing any period

Kiwanis Medal Is Given Miss Seaton
At Noon Luncheon

With the record-breaking attendance of 108 members and nine guests present at the weekly noon luncheon
today, the Connellsville Kiwanis Club presented to Miss Sarah Seaton the medal awarded annually to the citizen considered the most useful to the community during the year. The medal presented today was the first given by the club.

Recently a committee named to select five persons rating in this capacity was named and when a vote
was taken Miss Seaton was chosen.
The presentation was made by John L. Gane, who expressed the appreciation of the club for the services rendered to the community by Miss Seaton, particularly her work among the younger generation. He also read a letter received from G. Corrado, one of the five candidates selected by the committee, expressing his regret at not being able to be present today and writing his commendation to the club's selection. James McCalister and Attorney Ross S. Matthews, citizen candidates, were present and congratulated Miss Seaton. Accepting the medal Miss Seaton thanked the Kiwanians for the great honor placed upon her.

At the conclusion of the ceremony
the club gave a rising vote of thanks to Miss Seaton for her civic work and to the committee which served in selecting the candidates.

The Kiwanis Club service medal
was designed by Adam Plotz, sculptor.
The obverse shows a female
"to serve." This figure is in the attitude of sowing sunshine and good deeds. Incorporated on the face of the sun which is symbolic of health,
life and enlightenment, is the slogan
"He serves best who serves willingly."
A small laurel tree represents growth. On the reverse is the inscription "Pennsylvania District Medal, awarded for distinguished service." A laurel wreath surrounds
the Kiwanis emblem in the center.
Dr. H. J. Coll won the attendance prize. Singing was led by John Davis with the entire club joining.

Cold Wave Broken;

Although it had been predicted that the cold spell would not break until Thursday the temperature began to

"mild." The minimum figure was 20 degrees, when during the previous 72 hours it had been hovering close to the zero mark.

Today the mercury continued to climb and at 11 o'clock had reached

BRITAIN'S NEW LABOR CABINET
TACKLES STRIKE

Every Effort Being Bent to Prevent Spread of Railway Stoppage.

PRAISE GIVEN McDONALD

By United Press.
LONDON, Jan. 23.—The first act of the MacDonald government, even before it was fully formed in office, was to attempt a settlement of the rail strike. While the government of Great Britain was passing into the hands of representatives of the laboring class every effort was being bent to bring to an end the slowly spreading industrial paralysis of the transportation loop.

The men chosen by Premier Mac-Donald for the nation's first labor cabinet were early at the various government offices. Arthur Henderson already has assumed his duties as home secretary, although a seat in the House of Commons must be filled before he can be officially given the seals of office.

The British spirit of fair play is manifesting itself in the public and press reception to the Laborites. Today's newspapers, regardless of politics, are practically unanimous in commending MacDonald's good judgment in his selection of a cabinet outgoing and incoming ministers of peace and the seals of office were exchanged and all kissed
the king's hand.

The new cabinet members were sworn in at a special meeting of the privy council and held the first cabinet meeting at 4 P. M.

The names of the new cabinet ministers were published officially soon after Mr. MacDonald submitted them to the king, as follows:

Ramsey MacDonald—First lord of the treasury of the commons.
Lord Parmoor—Lord privy seal and deputy leader of the commons.
Viscount Haldane—Lord chancellor.
Philip Snowden—Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Arthur Henderson—Home secretary.
J. H. Thomas—Colonial secretary.
Stephen Walsh—War secretary.
Sir Sidney Oliver—India.

Alfred George Thompson—Air.
Viscount Chelmsford—First lord of the admiralty.
Captain Sydney Webb—President of the board of trade.

John Wadley—Health.
Norton Douglas—Agriculture.
Charles Trevelyan—Education.
Thomas Shaw—Labor.
Vernon Harcourt—Postmaster
general.

Colonel Wedgwood—Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster.

Moscow Mourns Lenine, Body in State at Capital

By United Press.
MOSCOW, Jan. 23.—While Moscow, a city of black, prepared to receive today the remains of Nikolai Lenin,
the dead premier's fellow leaders urged the workers, peasants and the

RADICALS LOSE FIRST ROUND AT MINERS' MEET

By United Press.
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 23.—The first radical move on the floor of the United Mine Workers convention was defeated today when the delegates approved the report of Philip Murray,
vice-president of the organization,
around which the anti-administration
forces centered their attack.

On motion of William Mitchell, Terre Haute, Ind., secretary of the committee on officers' reports, the report of President John L. Lewis was accepted without opposition, thus placing the convention on record as favoring negotiations of long-time wage contracts.

Murray in his report, endorsed the expulsion from membership in the Pittsburgh district of Thomas Myer-tough and several others, who it was charged, aided the operators during the strike of 1921 by calling a meeting at Monacahe, Okla., to consider a wage reduction of $2.50 per day.

Murray charged that Myertough, who is secretary of the "progressive committee," an out-law organization within the miners' ranks had attempted to create dissension and ultimately compel the miners to accept a wage reduction.

State Police

The petition asks that a search war-

of wine and a still seized in a recent facilitate apprehension of rum runners by American authorities. The same extension applies theoretically to British ports for prevention of smuggling.

Rupture Experts Coming

Demonstrate the Famous Rice Method - Free to Callers at Hotel.

If you are ruptured, your big opportunity has now arrived. If you want to be free from the slavery of aching, chafing trusses that make life a burden and misery, then HELLER and NOW is the time to act.

Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Finnegan, experts in rupture cases, trained under the personal direction of W. S. Rice, of Adams, N. Y., originator of the famous Rice (Non-Surgical) Rupture Method, will be at the Royal Hotel, Connelville, Pa., Friday afternoon and evening, January 25, all day and even to Saturday, January 26, and at Keystone Hotel, Greensburg, Pa., Monday and Tuesday, January 28 and 29, to give free demonstration and trial of his safe and painless method to every man, woman and child who is ruptured.

You have, no doubt, heard and read much about this famous Rice Rupture Method and the wonderful cures which thousands have reported from it. Now, you have the chance to find out all about it—to have it personally applied to your own rupture and learn just what it can and will do in YOUR OWN case. Just call at the hotel and these experts will give you their personal attention, best advice and complete demonstration entirely free.

Are you tired of that binding, hampering, uncomfortable, old truss? Would you like to be done with truss wearing forever? Then investigate this Rice Method and learn the wonderful opportunity for help and cure it offers. Remember it is different from everything else and is accomplishing wonderful results where all other treatments, and even operations have failed. It is modern up-to-the-minute, accurate, the latest scientific development. Don't let this great opportunity get away from you. Your call on the Rice experts is sure to prove one of the best things you ever did. They will be there only two days then your opportunity will be gone. Grandmother Knew

There Was Nothing So Good For Coughs and Colds as Mustard. But the old-fashioned mustard plaster burned and blistered while it acted. Get the relief and help that mustard plasters gave, without the blister and without the blister. Mustard does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders.

Gently massage Mustard into the finger-tips. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears. Try Mustard for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuritis, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pain and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bites, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

To Mothers: Mustard is now made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Mustard. 35c and 65c, jars and tubes; hospital size, $3.00.

What's the Reason?

IN thousands of homes where one or more of the family are nervous and irritable, the cause may be hidden—hard to understand. But usually, "There's a Reason."

Doctors and dietitians are very generally agreed that people who are nervous or suffer with digestive disturbances should not drink coffee or tea because these beverages contain a drug, caffeine, and their use tends to increase nervous irritability.

Many of us just drift into wrong habits of eating and drinking, though we usually know better. So if there are nervous ones in your family, suppose you make a change—serve Postum for thirty days.

Postum is a pure cereal beverage. It furnishes all the pleasure of a hot drink—cheery warmth and good flavor. Postum is refreshing, satisfying, healthful; and there's nothing in all the world quite so effective as health to overcome nervousness and make life worth while.

Postum for Health

"There's a Reason"

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: instant Postum (in cans) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum-Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer the flavor brought out by boiling fully 20 minutes. The cost of either form is about one-cent a cup.

Preacher Captures Robber With Nickel-Plated Pillars.
Rev. Charles Stephenson, pastor of the Emmanuel, Ky., Christian church, by use of a nickel-plated pillar of pillar which looked like a band of freight train robbers.

In the truck were 70 cases, each containing 1000 cigarettes. Recently while a Southern railway freight train was standing over a trestle robbers unloaded 80 cartons of cigarettes.

Boils

THERE is a reason for everything that happens. Common-sense also kills misery. Common-sense also stops boils! S.S.S. is the common-sense remedy for boils, because it is built on reason. Scientific authorities admit its power! S.S.S. builds blood-power, it builds red-blood-cells. That is what makes fighting-boils. Fighting-boils destroys impurities. It fights boils. It fights pimples! It fights skin eruptions! It always wins! Mr. V. D. Schiff, 557 15th street, Washington, D. C., writes:
"I tried for years to get relief from a bad case of boils. Everything failed until I took S.S.S. I am now absolutely cured, and it was S.S.S. that did it."
S.S.S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Physician

Of 17 years' treatment of women for liver and bowel ailments, Dr. Edwards has given to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with Olive Oil Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, yellow look, chills, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Hundreds of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit. 15c and 50c.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

An Arithmetic Aid. One Mother Says: My little girl finds her problems in arithmetic difficult to master. I have found she understands them best if we make a game of it with toilet-picks, working out the problems like puzzles. I show her how to make one-half, one-fourth, etc., and leave her to try to get the solutions, going back with her over the steps she has taken, if she fails to get the correct answer.

During a drunken brawl, her husband, Harry Albright, aged 51, shot her. The man, a Pennsylvania Railroad shopman, said he tried to fire the second shot into his wife's body as she toppled from the chair on which she had been sitting as he "moaned" to finish her.

The slayer was arrested shortly after the shooting, being caught in the kitchen of his home while trying to wash blood from a shot wound in his left hand, believed to have been inflicted during a scuffle for the revolver.

Sabotage in British Strike

By United Press. LONDON, Jan. 23.—Violence and sabotage entered the British rail strike situation today. Near Northampton strikers stormed a train, boarded a running train, rendering him unconscious in the locomotive cab.

At Glasgow a heavy freight train during the night crashed through an obstruction without being derailed. It is believed an attempt was being made to wreck a light passenger train following the freight.

Sulphur Is Best To Clear Up Ugly, Broken Out Skin

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings relief from the itching, burning and irritation.

Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the furunculosis or disfigurement. A little jar of Mentho-Sulphur ointment will be calculated at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.—Advertisement.

SHE SAT UP FOR HOURS AT NIGHT

"I had been failing in health the past few years," writes Mrs. L. M. Mayor, seventy-six, 332 West Street, Bethlehem, Pa. "I had always been a strong and a hard worker, but the death of my husband and other worries led to a general breakdown. My stomach failed me and I began to be in great distress. I had gas and bloating, had no appetite and lost all my strength and ambition. I couldn't sleep nights. I often had to get up and go down stairs and sit in a chair for hours alone during the night."

"I took Munyon's Paw Paw Tonic and in three days I began to feel better. Now after three weeks I feel fine and can't say too much in praise of Paw Paw."

Try this wonderful tonic yourself! It costs only $1 a bottle at any first-class drug store. (Munyon's Paw Paw Tonic for Every Ill.) Munyon's, Scranton, Pa.

Late Fashion Notes of Interest to All Women

Velvet is used as a trimming on velvet at present. Black is trimmed with scarlet, brown with purple and other gay combinations of the sort.

Numerous buckles of galalith are featured on many new coats and street costumes. A favorite trick is to draw the material into a big bowknot on one hip, fastening it with the galalith ornament.

Among the dress shoes shown in the shops are some of gold brocade, very much cut out and decorated with a multiplicity of this strips. Across the front are cut-out Egyptian figures in green leather.

One remarkable tailored suit is of gray ducetyn checked in red. The hip-length coat and the two wide, flat flounces of the skirt have a curious wrap-around effect whereby the right flap of each is higher than that over which it fastens.

Many of the dancing slippers worn at present are not only adorned themselves with gold and silver but also with pearls and pastel colors and patterns. The vamp is in brocade, of a Persian pattern, with the rest of the shoe in silver or gold.

Chosen to Match. In a rather subtle way gowns and embroidery set each other off on the later evening gowns. A jade comb and short jade necklaces, for example, exactly match in color the panel of green embroidery on a black chiffon velvet frock.

Decorative Pillows. Simple and decorative are round pillows of changeable taffeta, that have borders of box-plated ruffling whose edges are deeply frayed.

To Whiten Skin with Lemon

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Glycerine. White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle.

Use, and you have a whole quarter pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softer and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon on blackish into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy white complexion; also to soothe rough or chapped hands and face. You must mix this remarkable bleach yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.—Advertisement.

High School Wins Fifth Game in W. P. I. A. League; Jeannette High Defeated

Local Quintet Keeps Up Dizzy Pace and Manages to Keep State Clean.

YOUNGWOOD TOMORROW

Playing a spectacular basketball game last night, the Connellsville High School quintet, racing towards the championship of Section Three, W. P. I. A. League, took down the fifth straight game by defeating the fast Jeannette quintet, 35-27. The "Wonder of 1924," still minus the valuable services of Captain Welsh, won the game for him, and showed home town fans the stuff with which they have been setting the pace in this section of the league.

Fans left the gymnasium in a spirit of enthusiasm that is certain to spread to the players and give them new life. It is the kind of spirit which pervades a playing hall when he home crowd stands solidly behind its team and that is the kind of support that is crystallizing for the Jokers.

Although Connellsville took a slight lead in the initial period, Jeannette rallied just before the whistle and the first quarter ended in a 7-7 tie. Then the home boys again forged to the front, never ceasing to fight for a single moment. This show of real strength sent the locals out in front and the half ended with a margin of 14-8.

The last half was one of the hardest fought periods witnessed for several seasons. Jeannette hit a furious pace, the visiting boys determined to down their little opponents at all costs. Both teams traveled at a dizzy speed for amateurs, and with the local youngsters showing the benefit of regular hours and training they allowed the tire town team no chance to gain a point.

Kistler, star center of the Jeannette quintet, still had to be reckoned with, however. He showed classy form and in the last period endeavored to lead his team out of what seemed to be impending defeat. Once more Connellsville's basketballers proved themselves masters of the situation and pulled along on even terms.

"Bo" Wilkins, taking the place of the Coker leader at guard, is playing the best game of his career at present. Never impressive as a guard, "Bo", realizing the responsibilities thrust on him and the standard set for him in filling his captain's shoes, has "delivered" and the locals show no weakened effects.

Donald LaRue is another lad who has cut out the "monkey-business" and is rising to the occasion. At the close of last season Welsh and LaRue were deadlocked for the captaincy. Both boys had been playing together since Y. M. C. A. days and nothing but the friendliest feelings existed. When the deadlock was finally broken Welsh was the winner. He had all the boys with him this year. Since Welsh sprained his ankle LaRue has been in charge of the floor and he is all business, making it a rule to get along well with his men and keep them instilled with the Welsh spirit. He played his usual good game last night.

The fact that the locals are made up of boys who cannot be dubbed anything but "little" in the basketball world, adds to the sweet taste of victory when a larger team is beaten.

The line-up

O'Donnell — F — Witalis
Nikand — C — McNulty

DE-FRATS TIE WITH SHAN-FRATS IN FIRST HALF DUCKPIN LEAGUE

The Unity Fraternity Duckpin League closed its first half last night with a tie resulting for first place between the De-Frats and the Shan-Frats. The De-Frats had a wonderful opportunity for clinching the top position only needing to win three out of six games from the Opp-Frats. Instead the team won only two and the tie resulted.

The roll-off will take place next week, Tuesday being scheduled at present.

The Mel-Frats lost out by a mere two games. A different tale might have been told had the Mor-Frats not forfeited last night. The forfeiture, however, benefited neither of the top teams, both being scheduled with the absent rollers and each thereby being awarded three straight games.

In last night's games the Mel-Frats took three straight from the Opp-Frats. Then the Shan-Frats won two out of three from the same team. The Opp-Frats had 12 games to roll last evening to complete the schedule the other six being with the De-Frats. The latter team needed three to clinch the title but were able to take only two. The tie resulted.

The second half of the league season will get under way next Tuesday.

Capstan Passers to Meet Strong Outfit On Home Floor Friday

The Capstan Glass basketball team, going stronger this year than ever before, will meet the Perry Independents, another organization which is "mopping up" this season, on Friday night at South Connellsville. The game will be preceded by a preliminary clash between the Perry girls and the Capstan girls.

The glass blowers may find the Perry Independents the most powerful opponent of the season. Perry has not lost a single game yet and has been scoring heavily.

Nelson's Girls Have Game Here Tonight

Nelson's Girls, considered the finest aggregation of female talent ever brought together to the city, will play the Harrold Girls' Five of Greensburg at the Armory this evening. It will be the third game of the season for the locals.

The local aggregation had a comparatively easy time with Capstan and Perry, but may find the Greensburg lassies a different proposition. A good game is assured.

SCOTTSVILLE TEAM BEATS LIVE WIRES

The Scottsville Y. M. C. A. Intermediates played their first game abroad last evening, when at the Connellsville State Armory, they defeated the Live Wires by a score of 18 to 17. This is the seventh straight game they have won. Kenneth Porter and Arthur Loucks, intermediate stars, were out on account of injuries. In the line-up were:
Scottsville—18. Connellsville—17.
Cafferty — F — Williams
Zimmerman — F — Stevenson
Fuller — C — Ball
Wietzel — G — Trump
Stauder — G — Wetherell

Of Interest to Fans.

The Cokers are certainly winning the admiration of Connellsville basketball fans. With enthusiasm reignited after the defeat of Jeannette, a member of the Section Three, W. P. I. A. League, at the High School last night. "Don't we have the clever passing team though", a number were heard to remark proudly after spending the evening rooting for the Orange and Black crew.

Miss Anne Mellon, physical instructor and girl basketball coach at the High School, will meet the Freshman and Sophomore girls in the gymnasium Friday afternoon.

The Unity Fraternity basketball team practices at the Armory, tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

The Panther Five defeated the H. A. C. Twinklers by a score of 23-16 on the Capstan floor last night. Tennis in the 15-17 year class desiring games with the Panthers write J. Ford 311 North Pittsburg street.

Things Aren't As They Should Be

At the Theatres

The Paramount

"MAN'S LAW AND GOD'S LAW," on view today and tomorrow at this theatre, presents Jack Livingstone and Ethel Shannon in the leading roles. The scenes are laid in the Canadian Rockies and there the picture was photographed. The grandeur and sublimity of this range is unequalled on the American continent. The majesty of its peaks awes the beholder, but it is the enchanting beauty of its valleys with its rocks and rills, its cascading rivulets, its underbrush and ferns and wild flowers which make this region the paradise of the Americans and a mecca for tourists—very few of whom, however, penetrate far enough from the railways to enjoy such views as are unfolded to the spectator in "Man's Law and God's Law." And the story told in this film, that of the conspiracy by proxy of a villainous young officer of the Canadian Northwest Mounted by a Seattle belle, the ways and whereabouts of it and what resulted when he mistook her for a fugitive and placed her under arrest, is a story which, except for a sequence filled with pathos, is exceedingly humorous, bright and cheery. The telling of such a story in a setting of such glorious, natural beauty makes of "Man's Law and God's Law" one of the most genuinely interesting entertainments possible on the screen.

The Soisson

"ENEMIES OF WOMEN," showing today at this theatre, is a Cosmopolitan attraction with Lionel Barrymore and Alma Rubens, popular screen stars, in the stellar roles. The picture is of great beauty and scintillating charm. The company was sent to the actual scenes of the story in Paris and Monte Carlo and a million dollars is said to have been spent on the story. Paul Poiret was called upon for many of the frocks and the whole Ziegfeld chorus appear in the picture. Mr. Barrymore is splendid in the role of the titled worshiper at the shrine. Thursday, Friday and Saturday Harry Carey will be seen in "Desert Driven."

The Orpheum

"STEPHEN STEPS OUT"—The leading picture, today at this theatre, is a Paramount attraction, with Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. in the leading role.

The picture, a Paramount attraction, will also be shown tomorrow. Stephen Marlow, Jr. falls in his final explanation in Turkish history at Stillwater, a preparatory school endowed by his father, a wealthy meat packer. So Marlow, the elder, determines that his son shall study Turkey at first hand and he sends the lad there in charge of a tutor. In Constantinople Marlow becomes involved in the plots of conspirators against the Sultan and is imprisoned. He escapes and informs the Sultan of the whereabouts of his kidnapped son, Prince Yussuf. The Sultan is so grateful that he offers Stephen anything as a reward. It is the boy's request that his old professor, the one who duped him in history, and who wrote a history of Turkey, be presented with the Star of the Order of the Crescent. The Sultan agrees and Dr. Gilman is received to the Star, the Grand Cross of the Crescent.

HOW? Instructions on Form 1040A and Form 1040; also the law and regulations.

WHAT? Four per cent normal tax on the first $4,000 of net income in excess of the personal exemption and credits for dependents. Eight per cent normal tax on balance of net income. Surtax from 1 per cent to 60 per cent on net income over $6,000 for the year 1923.

TIPS FOR TAXPAYERS.

No. 19. Deductions for taxes form a considerable item in the returns of many taxpayers. Such items include taxes on personal property and real estate, whether business or residential. Taxes assessed against local benefits, such as street paving or drainage, which tend to increase the value of the property assessed, are not deductible, since they are the cost of a permanent improvement.

The federal income tax may not be deducted. Other federal taxes, however, are deductible; for example, the special taxes of oleomargarine dealers, proprietors of theatres, pool rooms, bowling alleys, customhouse brokers, and stockbrokers. Customs duties paid by a person on articles which he imports for his own use are deductible. Sales taxes paid by manufacturers of automobiles, candy, pleasure boats, works of art, carpets, trunks, jewelry, etc., may not be deducted by such manufacturers, unless included in gross income for the year. A purchaser of such articles can not deduct the taxes as they are levied against the manufacturer and not the purchaser.

Automobile license fees are regarded as taxes and the amount thereof may be deducted. Admission taxes are deductible, but the taxpayer must show that account has been kept of the amount paid during the year. More guesswork will not be accepted.

Only good shoes can give you genuine foot comfort and protect your health in winter weather. Shoes of inferior quality and manufacture are not only very poor economy but dangerous to health as well.

For a long time Union Supply Company shoes have been known to render unusual service. This is due to the careful selection of the lines both as to materials and workmanship. We must know that a shoe is right—that it contains good materials, is well made, that the style is correct, and that it is the best value for the money, before it takes its place in our stocks. This careful selection of our lines, plus an unusually small profit, makes the biggest shoe values to be had at the particular price you want to pay.

VIOLA GWYN

By GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON

Kenneth Gwynne did not go back to Lafayette with the main body of troops; he decided to join Captain McGeorge and his undaunted little band of adventurers.

He would have been amazed, even shocked, could he have known all that transpired in Lafayette on the day following his departure. He was not to know for many a day, as it was nearly three weeks after the return of the main body of troops that McGeorge and his little band rode wearily down through the Grand Prairie and entered the town, their approach being heralded by a scout sent on in advance.

Kenneth searched eagerly among the crowd on the river bank, seeking the face that had haunted him throughout all the irksome days and nights; he looked for the beloved one to whom his thoughts had sped each night for communion at the foot of the blessed elm. She was nowhere to be seen. He was bitterly disappointed.

As soon as possible he escaped from his comrades and hurried home. There he learned from Rachel Carter herself that Viola had gone away, never to return to Lafayette again.

Mid-morning on the day after the troops rode away, Rachel Carter appeared at the office of her lawyer, Andrew Holman. There, in the course of the next hour, she calmly, unswervingly related the whole story of her life to the astonished and incredulous gentleman.

She did not consult with her daughter before taking this irrevocable step. She put it beyond her daughter's power to shake the resolution she had made on the eve of Kenneth's departure; she knew that Viola would cry out against the sacrifice and she was sorely afraid of her own strength in the presence of her daughter's anguish. "I shall put it all in the paper," she said, regarding her distressed, perspiring face of the lawyer with a grim, almost taunting smile, as if she actually relished his consternation. "What I want you to do, first of all, Andrew, is to prepare some sort of affidavit, setting forth the facts, which I will sign and swear to. It needn't be a long document. The shorter the better, just so it makes everything clear."

"But, my dear Mrs. Gwyn, this—this will dispose of you of everything," remonstrated the astounded man of law. "The fact that you were never the wife of Robert—"

"Your memory needs refreshing," she interrupted. "If you will consult Robert Gwynne's will you will discover that he leaves half of his estate, at least, to my beloved and faithful companion and helpmate, Rachel, who, with me, has assumed the name of Gwyn for the rest of her life in view of certain circumstances which render the change in the spelling of my name desirable, notwithstanding the fact that in signing his, my last will and testament, I recognize the necessity of affixing my true and legal name. You and I know the sentence by heart, Andrew."

"Of course, if the will reads as you say—or should! But it has just occurred to me, Mrs. Gwyn, that you are going a little further than is really necessary in the matter. May I suggest that you are not—obliged to reveal the fact that you were never married to him? That, it seems to me, is quite unnecessary. If, as you say, your object is merely to set matters straight so that your daughter and Mr. Gwynne may be free to marry, being in no sense related either by blood or by law—such as would have been the case if you had married Kenneth's father, why, it seems to me you can avoid a great deal of unpleasant notoriety by—er—leaving out that particular admission."

"No," she said, firmly. "Thank you for your kind advice—but, if you will reflect, it is out of the question. You forget what you have just said. For a lawyer, my dear friend, you are surprisingly simple today."

"I see—I see," mumbled the lawyer, rubbing his brow. "Of course—very, you are quite right. You are a very level-headed woman. Quite so. I would have thought of it in another moment or two. You can't leave out that part of it without—er—nullifying the whole object and intent of your—er—ahem!—I was about to say confusion but that is a nasty word. In other words, unless you acknowledge that you and Robert were never lawfully married, the—er—"

"Exactly," she broke in crisply. "That is the gist of the matter. Society does not countenance marriage between stepbrother and stepdaughter so we will tell the whole truth—or nothing at all."

As she was leaving the office, he said to her, with deep feeling: "I suppose you realize the consequences, Mrs. Gwyn? It means ostracism for you. You will not have a friend in this town—not a person who will speak to you, aside from the storekeepers who will value your custom and—he bowed deeply—your humble servant."

"I fully appreciate what it means," she responded wearily. "It means that if I continue to hold my head up or dare to look my neighbor in the face I shall be called brazen as well as corrupt," she went on after a moment, a sad little tinkle at the corner of her mouth. "Well, so be it. I have thought of all that. Have no fear for me, my friend. I have never been afraid of the dark—so why should I fear the light?"

"You're a mighty fine woman, Rachel Gwyn," cried the lawyer, warmly. She frowned as she held out her hand. "None of that, if you please," she remarked tersely. "Will you have the paper ready for me to sign this afternoon?"

"I will submit it to you right after dinner."

"You may expect me here at two o'clock. We will then stop over to the Free Press and allow Mr. Somers to copy the document for his paper." She allowed herself a faint smile. "I dare say he can make room for it, even if he has to subtract a little from his account of the stirring events of yesterday."

"Your story will make a great sensation," declared the lawyer, wiping his brow once more. "He can't afford to—er—leave it out."

At two o'clock she was in his office again. He read the carefully prepared document to her.

"This is like signing your own death warrant, Rachel Gwyn," he said painfully, as she affixed her signature and held up her hand to be sworn.

"No, I am signing a pardon for two guiltless people who are suffering for the sake of others."

"That reminds me," he began, pursing his lips. "I have been reflecting during your absence. Has it occurred to you that this act of yours is certain to react with grave consequences upon the very people you would—er—benefit? Your daughter will not escape the—er—ignominy of being—ahem!—of being your daughter, in fact. Young Gwynne will find his position here very greatly affected by the—er—"

"I quite understand all that, Andrew. I am not thinking of the present so much as I am considering the future. The past, so far as we all are concerned, is easily disposed of, but these two young people have a long life ahead of them. It is not my idea that they shall spend it here in this town—or even in this state."

"You mean you will urge them to leave Lafayette forever?"

"Certainly."

"But if I knew Viola—and I think I do—she will refuse to desert you. As for Gwynne, he strikes me as a fellow who would not turn tail under fire."

"In any case, Andrew, it will be for them to decide. Kenneth had already established himself as a lawyer huck in the old home town. I shall urge him to return to that place with Viola as soon as they are married. His mother was a Blythe. There is no blot upon the name of Blythe. My daughter was born there. Her father was an honest, God-fearing, highly respected man. His name and his memory are untarnished. No man can say against the half of Kenneth that is Blythe, nor the half of Viola that is Carter. I should like the daughter of Owen Carter to go back and live among his people as the wife of the son of Laura Blythe, and to honorably bear the name that was denied me by a Gwynne."

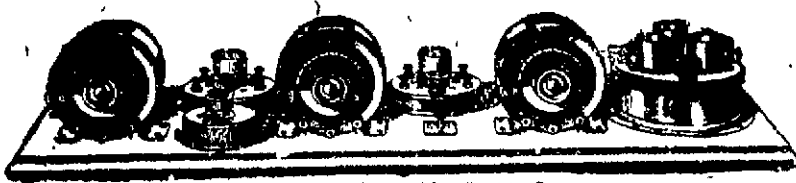

He looked at her shrewdly for a moment and then, as the full significance of her plan grew upon him, revealing in a flash the motive behind it, he exclaimed:

"Well, by gosh, you certainly have done an almighty lot of calculating." "And why shouldn't I? She is my child. Is it likely that I would give myself the worst of everything without seeing to it that she gets the best of everything? No, my friend; you must not underestimate my intelligence. I will speak plainly to you—but in confidence. This is between you and me. There is no love lost between Kenneth Gwynne and me. He hates me and always will, no matter how hard he may try to overcome it. In a different way I hate him. We must not be where we can see each other. I am sorely afraid that the tender love he now has for Viola would fall to outlast the hatred he feels toward me. I leave you to imagine what that would mean to her. He has it in his power to give her a place among his people. He can force them to honor and respect her, and her children will be their children. Do you see? Need I say more?"

"You need say nothing more. I un-

"Now, how's it going to work? Is it really going to bring in those interesting programs loud and clear night after night from stations near and far? Am I going to have to fool and fuss around with the thing half an hour before I get anything worth listening to?"

dreaded what you want? Mrs. Gwyn—and I must say that you are in a sense justified. What is to become of young Gwynne's property here in this county?"

"I think I can be trusted to look after it satisfactorily," she said quietly; "perhaps even better than he could do for himself. I am a farm woman."

"I thought maybe you had some notion of buying him out."

"He would not sell to me. His farm is being properly handled by the present tenant. His lots here in town cannot run away. The time will come when they will be very valuable, or I am so prophetic. There is nothing to keep him here, Andrew, and his interests and my daughter's will be as carefully looked after as my own."

"We will be sorry to lose him as a citizen."

"If you are ready we will stop over to the Free Press office," she said, without a sign that she had heard his remark.

They crossed the square and turned up the first street to the left.

This will be a terrible shock to your daughter," said the lawyer, breaking a long silence.

"She will survive it," replied Rachel Gwyn sentimentally.

He laid his hand on her arm. "Will you accept a bit of advice from me?"

They stopped. "I am not above listening to it," she replied.

"My advice is to postpone this action until you are sure of one thing."

"And what may that be?"

"Kenneth Gwynne's age. Return from this farm against the Indiana. He may not come back alive."

"He will come back alive," said she, in a cool, matter-of-fact tone. "It is so ordained. I know. Come, we are wasting time. I have much to do between now and nightfall. Bright and early tomorrow morning my daughter and I are leaving town."

"Leaving town?" he cried. "Oh—"

"I am taking her out in the country—to the farm. If I can prevent it she shall never put foot in this town again. You know Phineas Striker? An honest, loyal man, with a wife as good as gold. When Kenneth Gwynne marches back to town, again he will find me here to greet him. I will tell him where to find Viola. Out at Striker's farm, my friend, she will be waiting for him to come and claim his own."

A smile he did not understand and never was to understand played about her lips as she continued dryly, for such was the manner of this amazing woman:

"He will even find that her wedding gown is quite as much to his fancy as it was the day he met her."

If Back Hurts Begin on Salts

Flush Your Kidneys Occasionally by Drinking Quarts of Good Water.

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much rich food creates acids which clog the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood. Then you get sick, rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin to drink soft water in quantities, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and can not injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year—Advertisement.

Slim, Straight Is New Frock Slogan

Garments Lend Themselves to Treatments That Are Interesting.

Slim and exceedingly straight in line as so many of the new frocks are, nevertheless they lend themselves to varied treatments as interesting as they are novel, notes a fashion writer in the Kansas City Star. Since for many people an absolutely unbroken line is apt to be a bit trying, certain details are introduced which relieve a too straight line, but do not detract from the essential slenderness.

A circular blouse attached to a long, slim frock is one of the most effective means of breaking the line. This blouse is of fur, trimmed to match the circular cuffs on the sleeves; the result is an ensemble of distinction. The importance of brown is stressed in the modes of midwinter. The material often is soft wool velours in a particularly flattering tone. The fur on the sleeves and forming the blouse is beaver, while a note of contrast is added by narrow bands of dull gold galloon arranged to form a decoration on the skirt and to suggest a belt just across the front of the dress.

With this costume is worn one of the new high-crowned hats which milliners have introduced in the hope of ousting the ubiquitous cloche. It is of black hatbox plush, with a small brush ornament placed in front a little to the right. Several of these hats have appeared lately and are extremely chic. One model has a slight roll just at the side, which gives a becoming and flattering line.

The tiered dress still remains one of the standbys of fashion. Because it can be worn only by certain types it has not become too popular. Since a frock of this kind must be very carefully cut, it naturally possesses a distinction not to be found in mediocre styles. For young slim figures it is admirable, which no doubt accounts for the fact that in every collection of models designed for the debutante or her parents, there is sure to be at least one frock that boasts of tier.

Nothing could be more charming than the little frock, which in its simplicity is perfect. Brown velvet is the material much chosen for its fashioning, with huge crepe de chine used for the waistcoat and for the foundation of the skirt, upon which flat plaques of velvet are mounted. The plaques show a similar treatment. Dull gold galloon forms a belt, with long ends brought down to the bottom of the skirt.

If one prefers a less expensive fabric this frock would be equally pretty if made of velveteen, which now comes in a soft supple quality and in lovely colors.

Low Girdle, New Fashion in Paris

Side Drapery and Bib and Hood Effects Are Among Styles Shown.

Dignified draperies are claiming considerable attention. This does not mean that draped models are replacing those with bouffants and tiers, but rather that they are used in conjunction with one another. Many of the new models, notes a writer in the New York Tribune, are basically draped, but have, in addition to the drapery, bouffants, tiers, cascading panels and jabot effect.

Velvet excels in new draped models. These are draped in a most graceful way and differ widely from the figure-molding effects of the past. A new fallot evening model dispenses with every bit of undergarment or other accessories that once were indispensable to the woman's toilette. All of the dresses have little 'girdle belts' to which hose supporters are attached. The dress is built on this girdle, whether it be of normal or low waistline. So, all the fashionable 'Parisienne' wears a pair of slippers, a pair of stockings and her dress.

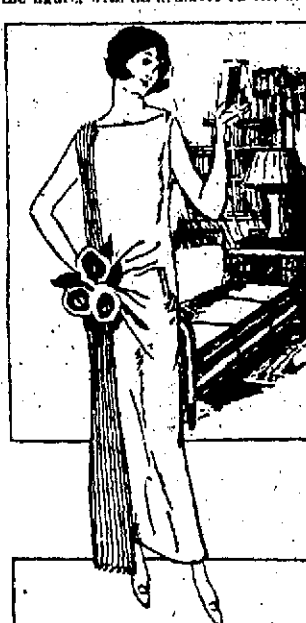

One of Viennet's newest models is so cut that the front forms a series of draped folds like a hood. This is done by means of a bias seam down the center front. A similar effect is worked out in a bib effect, oblong and rounded at the corners, this bib formed of alternating bands of two shades of crepe, one of which forms the remainder of the dress.

Cheruit shows her ingenious use of drapery in a gown in which she strikes a happy medium between the simplicity of the earlier model, which, in this case, is nothing more than a width of velvet

Try New Smart Designs You Can Make at Home

The blouse has become a very necessary and decorative part of the wardrobe of every well-dressed woman, says a fashion writer in the Milwaukee Sentinel. By clever planning it may become a half part of two or three costumes, and the better three-quarters of several others.

Let us take up three correct types: The sports blouse, the costume blouse and the tunic blouse which transforms any skirt it is worn with into a very up-to-date dress.

The sports blouse may be of flannel. This type of blouse should be worn only with country clothes, a strictly tailored suit, or as part of a business-like jersey or flannel dress. It may also be of English broadcloth, in which case its scope is enlarged to include the golfing costume and the riding habit. The costume blouse is the most important part of the three-piece suit, which is being worn more than ever this winter. By purchasing a two-piece suit you will be more free in your choice of models. The most up-to-date model to complete that sort of ensemble is the monogrammed overblouse of metal cloth, which has been sponsored by dressmakers. This blouse could be copied at home. An original way of applying the monogram is to work out an individual design of one's own, but the majority in evidence are conventional patterns which are easily transferred and embroidered.

The tunic overblouse is a very smart and convenient development of this season's craze for things Chinese. It may be made of crepe to match the lining of your suit, or to harmonize with your costume, or it may be made of white satin discreetly trimmed with metal.

This model may be adapted by dressmakers at a reasonable price. To be thoroughly in the fashion it should be of satin, either white or black. It should fit easily to the waistline, and flare slightly from the hips down, and it should be trimmed with a touch of metal—the smartest way is in small buttons or narrow lines of metal braid.

Scarfs for Evening—Great silk scarfs for evening wear are hand-painted with the most gorgeous colors and designs.
